

Radford Social

Special to The Times-Dispatch
RADFORD, VA., Nov. 3.—A number of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Adams, which ten years ago was the scene of such delightful entertainments, presented a festive appearance Friday evening, when Mrs. Adams entertained in home of her cousin, Miss Elizabeth of Mississippi, and her guests, Misses Martha, Gladys, Lula and Stark. The evening was spent in dancing and playing cards, and a supper, meat courses and sweets were served. About fifty young people responded.

Miss Maudie Wilson entertained the afternoon before, Saturday. Thus for the winter were the social engagements served by the girls.

The Radford social season began by the Kappa Delta girls at the home of Mrs. Simeon Johnson, who is very amiable after all, and in spite of a violent weather, was followed by a good and a good sum received. The back door of the house was thrown open, and everybody entered in without coats or hats, as it was warm. The parlor was in white and gold, and there were whistlers, while various groups of girls performed. Late, Mrs. W. N. Madison, Mrs. W. W. Wiggin and the Sisters of the Future for all, were present. Late, Mrs. Mrs. J. W. Kamm, who had been well received at the party of October, and Mrs. E. S. Jones, who had given one of the most brilliant parties ever held, were entertained. The parlor was in white and gold, and many Halloween games were enjoyed, and much was rendered by "Meadow Lark" and others. The dining-room was attractively decorated, and small pumpkin pies, cake mincemeat and custards were served. During the evening the B. G. & G. Club, in the role of ghosts, came in a body.

The R. G. G. Club gave a very attractive Halloween party at the home of Miss Evelyn Lyle. The house was tastefully decorated in jack-o'-lanterns and vines and thoughts colors, crimson and white. Little Miss Holmes Bullard, attired as a bat, opened the door to the ghosts, and costumes were told by Miss Deane Hallard. The table was attractively decorated and the refreshments were varied. The souvenirs were small pinwheels, hand-painted by members of the club, the profit derived of which went to the children of the gypsies. A number of guests were present.

A very enjoyable home and school Halloween party was given by the Girls' Academy by the Ladies' Aid society of Central Presbyterian Church for the benefit of the Soldiers' Fund. Jack-o'-lanterns adorned the hallways, and varied Halloween games were indulged in. A solo by Mr. E. S. Jones was one of the enjoyable features of the program. Coke, chocolate and coffee were served. Twenty-five dollars was realized.

The Sixty-eighth Eclipse Club was entertained Monday evening by Miss Mary Judies at the home of Mrs. William Ingles. Rev. L. W. Irwin and Ex-Gov. Tyler returned Wednesday from Staunton, where they attended a meeting of school.

Mr. Vincent Miller has gone to Fort Smith, Arkansas, where he will practice law with Mr. Oscar Miles and Mr. Pierce Miller, prominent railroad attorneys. Mr. Vincent Miller is the son of the late Col. George W. Miller and was last visited by his father at Washington and Lee. He has inherited many of his father's intellectual gifts, and his friends predict for him a brilliant career.

Miss Margaret Wade has returned to New York after an extended visit to relatives here.

Mrs. A. E. Ingles and Mrs. Mark C. Ingles are visiting relatives in Boston.

WAVERLY SOCIAL

Special to The Times-Dispatch
WAVERLY, VA., November 2.—Among those from this place who attended the annual session of the Eastern Virginia Christian Conference at Hollins, Va., this week, were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. West, and the Rev. H. E. Kountz. The conference convened on Tuesday eve. and will adjourn today. Judge J. P. West of Waverly has been chosen to deliver the annual address at the next session of the conference.

Mr. H. W. Chapman of Petersburg, Va., is visiting friends and relatives in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wimberly of Farmersville, Va., have been here friends and relatives in town this week. Mrs. Wimberly is a sister of Mr. J. H. Adams, agent of the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

The Philanthropic Interests, who were entertained last week by Mrs. J. A. Chappell, subject discussed An Evening With Lord Balfour, Rev. Dr. Drymore, Professor Sims, Mrs. J. D. West and Mrs. Annie Morris took part in the discussion of this subject, and it was very interesting.

Mrs. Marie Williams, now of Norfolk, but whose parents live here, was suddenly called home yesterday on account of the illness of her wife.

Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Passow and Miss Edna Englehardt of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting their sister, Mrs. George Johnson, over Roanoke this week, in the absence of Miss Estelle, the Waverly Home Board member of Miss Hattie, Philadelphia.

Mr. C. Edwards, editor for Philadelphian, has come to town and will speak, and is expected to remain here.

On account of the fire Tuesday in November, Mrs. Stover, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. R. A. Lewis of Waverly, spent many hours at the Waverly offices the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Pass